northeast winds, warmer partly cloudy weather, with stationary or rising barometer, possibly followed by falling barometer and rain during Monday night.

THE FAIR .- The paramount object of interest in this city now is the first angual fair of the Alexandria and Fairfax Agricultural and In dustrial Society. To the grounds crowds have been going, and there workmen have been employed for several weeks past.

Oa Saturday evening men were at work fiaishing up the edges of the track, making every thing smooth and even, and completing the this county.

A considerable number of the owners of fast horses had them out on Saturday evening, and for probation. tested their speed and endurance on the new track. Some most excellent driving was done, found dead near Resslyn in this county, Aug. and the leading borses and their owners were 13, 1878, was returned and filled. heartily applauded by the crowd of lookers on

While these trials of speed were going on outside, the carpenters and other mechanics lands of Cruit and Peace to the county road be were busily at work inside of the building, fitting up and arranging the stands for the stead the Fairfax and Georgetown Turnpike different exhibitors.

Mr. J. T. Beckham, secretary, and Messes.

presented a scene of unexampled activity and | declared abandoned. bustle. The workmen were finishing up the benches and stands, and the paper hangers!

The ladies, as usual in all good works, ora ahead of all others. Their department is already full to overflowing, and new articles are still pouriog in. The number and quality of specimens of the useful handiwork and skill of the fair daughters of Alexandria and vicinity are such as to cause the most hardened bachelor to regret his want of taste and compel bim to call on the parson. Suffice it to say that this department is fairly crammed with everything pretty and useful in domestic and fancy work, worsteds, paintings, pen and ink drawings, &c.

A large steam farm ongine, owned by Mr. Samuel Pulman, was placed upon the grounds this morning and will furnish the motive power for such farm machinery, threshers &c. as may

LAW IN THE COUNTY. - Yesterday a capal beatman had a mule stolen from him, near the Freedmen's Village, in the county, by a colored man. He at once repaired to a colored magistrate and procured a warrant, and, accompanied by two negro constables, succeeded in capturing his man. On their way back to the magistrate's, however, they were met by two negro men, who took the prisoner away from the officers, telling them that their terms had expired and they had no right to make arrests. The caval boatman was in town this meroing to make complaint and have the of-

The Bishop is now making his first visitation since his appoint- offects in twenty four hours. Those are the ment and his coming is looked for by Catholics with consideraple interest.

On Sunday, October 13, he will consecrate the new Catholic church as Leesburg.

HALF HOLIDAY .- At an informal meeting of the Commercial Exchange, this morning, a proposition was made and adopted to close the stores on the wharf, on Thursday afternoon, in order to allow the clerks and employees to visit the fair. The proposition is a good one and should be adopted by all the merchants and corekeepers throughout the city, whether members of the Exchange or not, and the day be observed as a half he i lay.

SUDDEN DEATH .- Mr. James Morrow, formerly of this city, but of late residing in Washington, died suddenly in that city on Saturday evening of paralysis. The deceased was about 37 years of age, and leaves a wife and five children. During the war he way a sergoant in Kemper's Battery and a gallant soldier. His remains were interred this evening.

Secretary Schurz's Speech.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, September 20, 1878 .-Secretary Schurz delivered his speech here Saturday night. He opened with a review of the present commercial and financial situation, showing that the cause of depression was the waste and destruction arising from the late war, and that like causes had produced like results all over Europe. He gave the statistics to show that while there had been contraction from 1825 to 1868, there had been expansion from 1868 up to and even after the panic. Hence the theory that our troubles were due to contraction was a fallacy. He maintained that more honest, lasting wealth had been acquired during the five years since 1873 than in the five years of wild speculation preceding that time and believed we were on the threshhold of a new period of prosperity. He then went into a long advocacy of hard money, advocated a gold stanard, and defended the national bank system. There was nothing political in his speech beyond an expression of satisfaction that the republican party was the advocate of honest money.

ADVERTISING VS. DRUMMING .- Tho St. Louis Journal of Commerce relates the experiences of "a well known house in New York which had the choice of paying $5,000 for a store in a great thoroughfare or $500 for one in a quiet cross street, and chose the latter, devoting the $4,500 saved in rent exclusively to advertising." This was its first step to an enormus fortune, and, although it occurred many years ago, it gives point to the Journal's comments on the great value of advertising compared with drumming. It says: "A Chicago wholesale grocery house, which a few years ago carried 16 drummers, at an expense of $40,000 per annum, and did an almost profitless business, has abandoned the drumming system, spends one-fourth their cost annually in newspaper advertising, dividing the balance among customers. As a natural result, their trade has increased tenfold, and the net prolits to the house in 1877 were $130,000. This year they will do still better. Their customers are better pleased, because they buy on orders from prices current from two to twenty per cont. cheaper than they ever could under the drummer system. Competitors don't like it much, but it is nevertheless a success-an immense success,"

Wm. Benton, of Loudoun county, raised this year on thirty acres of land twenty and a third bushels of corn to the acre.

and other decorators were hard at work. On every side might be seen merchants, storekeep ers and their clerks busily fixing up their stands and arranging their wares for exhibition. Much artistic taste is being shown, and it is safe to predict that the exhibition hall, will, when entirely arranged, celipse anything heretofore seen in this section of the country.
